

BELLBOTTOMS - Debut album (CD) Topcd-1047

Release in November 2005

Bellbottoms released their first single in the spring '02, with the selfpenned songs "She's Hot", "Let's Go!" and "Stationbird", which triggered a bigger interest in the band among fans, radiostations and newspapers. The band wrote more songs and in January '04 the recordings of a full lenght album started. Finally by May '05 it was ready for mixing.

The band chose to look for professionals who know what a rockband with strong rootsinfluences is all about, and contacted producer Kalle Gustafsson Jerneholm (Soundtrack Of Our Lives, 22 Pistepirkko) at Svenska Grammofonstudion. He immediately became interested after listening to some raw mixes. The album was mixed in June '05 in Gothenburg, Sweden, with Kalle and Hans Olsson (Silverbullit, Timo Räisänen) behind the mixing desk. Three tracks were additionally mixed by the band's guitarist Tom Forsman in July '05.

The enthralling result can be heard on the selftitled album that is to be released in November '05. With hundreds of gigs on each members account, true rock blood is running in Bellbottoms veins and the band is hungry for more!
